Issue #99 (5 July 2009)

Stock markets have started to stagnate and go down, much as we expected for June.
Now the question becomes where and when will it bottom.
More below..

Here is the FPF prediction chart for the Nasdaq in 2009.
More predictions charts for other markets, stocks, indices and commodities are available to the registered users of our FPF software program:

(Predictive chart made with FPF 1.1 software, available at <http://www.fourpillars.net/finance/fpf.php>)

Nasdaq

Current level: 1796

Nasdaq is down slightly from last month's peak. This correction doesn't look like it's over and we have another Metal month with July. So we are still looking for a drop towards 1500-1600 level this summer.

Stay out of stocks and get ready for buying if the downturn materializes.

Here is our updated prediction chart for Nasdaq:

Gold

Current level for XAU index: 139

Gold stocks dropped back down, but have stayed just above our buy target at 130 on the XAU.
The uptrend is nicely intact.
We may get our chance in July, so still waiting to buy till XAU drops below 130.

Here is the updated chart:

Euro - US Dollar

Current level: 1.39

The Euro is gradually drifting lower.

No changes in the picture here.

Still looking for a bottom and buying opportunity by next August-September.

So wait and see at what prices we can get in by then.

Here is the prediction chart:

Crude Oil

Current level for USO: 36.0

Oil made a peak last month and USO briefly touched our profit target at $40
It is now back down to $36 already.
Look for oil prices to stay under pressure till autumn.

Likely targets for USO are the low 30s or the low 20s (where it would make a double bottom)
Waiting to buy oil if we get a low in August-September.
