Issue #94 (8 February 2009)

Happy New year of the Yin Earth Ox.

Stocks remain well above their recent November lows, despite ongoing bad news about the economy. If the cycles stay on track we should get a significant rally soon. Not much good news would be needed to fuel such a rise, even the news of some stability could provide the catalyst. The question will then become: what next?

Here is the FPF prediction chart for the Nasdaq in 2009.

Nasdaq

January was not a great month for the Nasdaq, but we remain in good position to go up from here.

If we break above 1700 we could move up towards to 1900-2000 very quickly, next will depend if we can break the overhead resistance at 2200.

Our FPF cycles are quite positive till April, next a pause or downturn could set in.

Here is our updated prediction chart for Nasdaq:

Gold

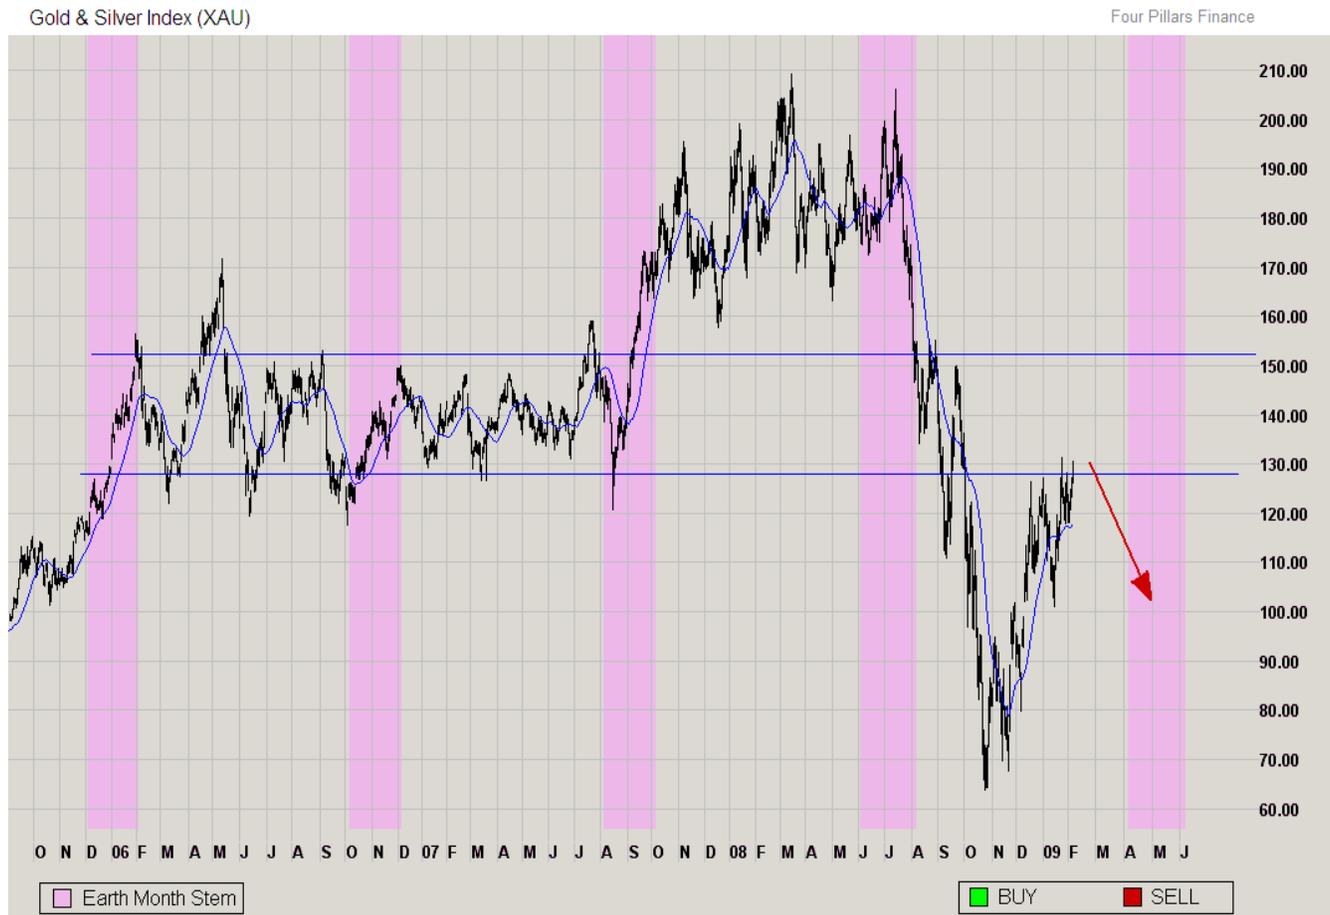

XAU gold stock index goes on struggling with the 130 level, as we predicted several months ago.

While a brief spike towards 150 remains possible in February or March, expected Earth months bottom period is coming up for April-May, so that's when we will look for a good buying opportunity.

We stay on the sidelines in this market.

Especially if our expected rally in stock markets materializes by April, some investors may start selling their defensive gold positions in order to participate in the bull market. That would easily drive gold prices down.

Here is the updated chart:

Euro - US Dollar

If you followed our advice to take profits in Euro, then you are probably not complaining. We didn't reach the higher 1.50 level, and Euro fell back sharply already (currently near 1.30). February - March gives now room for another move up to 1.40, then probably new weakness thereafter.

Personally we stay out of this one for the moment. August-September is when we will look for a good bottom buying opportunity in Euro.

Crude Oil

Oil prices have stayed rather weak, but showing some signs of stabilization.
We could easily get a $20 rise in oil price any time now.

But main buying opportunity for this year is expected for the August-September time frame.

In this market I would now take a one quarter position , just to have a foot in the door in case the bull market starts early.
Then we can go to full positions by August.
