Issue #47 (8 September 2004)

The Yin Water Rooster month started yesterday.

Stocks stabilised, as we had predicted.

The Nasdaq fell to 1750 , just within a few points of our predicted downside target, and then rebounded to 1850.
Nice isn't it?

Our FPF prediction chart for the Nasdaq is negative for September, and then we finally get some plus values again for October and November:

(Predictive chart made with FPF 1.1 software, available at <http://finance.fourpillars.net>)

Nasdaq

We expect to see some renewed weakness in stocks this month, with the Nasdaq index probably falling back to the long term uptrendline (blue in the chart).

Nothing dramatic and volatility will likely remain very low.

We would buy near 1800, as our FPF index points to a probable rally coming for October/November.

Get out if the Nasdaq falls below 1750.

Here is the updated prediction chart for Nasdaq:

Gold

Gold stocks went up to 95 on the XAU.

Last months we advised to sell gold stocks if they reach this level.

In the chart you can see how the index touched the downtrendline and then reversed course.

We have sold, and now look forward to buy gold stocks near 80 on the XAU in October or November.

No big rally in gold stocks is expected before February/March next year.

Here is the updated chart:

Euro - US Dollar

We predicted weakness for the Euro.

A big drop has not happened, but the Euro has fallen out of the long term uptrend (see chart)

It is now holding just above 1.20 against the dollar.

Any break below this 1.20 level will likely result in accelerated selling.

Still stay out here.

A drop towards 1.10 remains in the cards.

We will re-evaluate this Euro-Dollar market at the end of the Water months.
